COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, Nov. 16.

BUSINESS was suspended for the Dewali holidays from Thursday last up to Tuesday morning, so that for this occasion we have in reality only three days transactions to report upon. Exports are fairly active, considerable purchases of new Cotton for future delivery having been made, whilst Wheat and Linseed are going forward very freely, and look like doing so for some little time. Freights, however, have hardened somewhat of late, the rate for Liverpool being now 21s. 3d. to 22s. 6d., and if this movement continues, which seems very likely now that tonnage is running into smaller compass, we are inclined to think operations will be checked, as the home produce markets remain dull in the extreme. Imports have been rather more active, the usual Dewali bargains having imparted increased life to our Piece-Goods market. The belief in cheaper Cotton and proportionately lower prices for Goods, however, is so widely spread that dealers operate with considerable caution and refrain from fully anticipating there probable requirements. Money, although in rather more request, is still very plentiful. Shares are quiet; Government Paper dull and declining; Exchange on the average weaker.

MONEY.—The last Bank of Bombay return showed a decrease in the Cash Balance of 38½ lacs, the result of equivalent withdrawals of deposits. These, however, were probably more in anticipation of the holidays than an actual increase in the demand for money, which is still meeting but a mild enquiry at about 2 per cent. on loans secured by Government Paper, and 6 to 7 per cent. on shares. The Bank of Bengal in Calcutta, however, have to-day again advanced their rates of discount one per cent., and as this brings their minimum up to 3 per cent. above the Bank of Bombay, it is not unlikely that the latter institution may be disposed to advance their official minimum also. The movement, if it comes, however will be entirealy irrespective of the actual state of our market on the spot, in which we do not look for any firmness this side of the New Year.

EXCHANGE.—Bar Silver in London having declined during the holidays from 51¾d. to 51 5-16d. per oz., business opened here on Tuesday with a decided downward tendency and a decline of 1-32d from the closing rates of Thursday last. A considerable extent of business was done, but a further fall of 1-32d. was established yesterday, the quotations being 1s. 7 11-16d. for demand Bank and 1s. 7 15-16d. for 3 months' Credit bills. This morning, however, on the strength of Government having adhered to their previous minimum of 1s. 7¾d. for Council drafts a reaction set in, and aided by firmer advices from Calcutta a recovery of 1-16d. has been established, closing rates for ready bills being:—

Bank Bills on demand	.. 1s. 7¾d.	per rupee.
Do. Telegraphic	.. 1s. 7 11-16d.	,,
Do. 3 months' sight	.. 1s. 7 29-32d.	,,
Credits, 3 ,, ,,	.. 1s. 8d.	,,
Francs, 3 ,, ,,	.. 2 10½	,,

At their minimum of 1s. 7¾d. Government only succeeded in placing Rs. 2,10,000 out of the 25 lacs offered, so that we can scarcely consider the result at all indicative of strength. On the contrary to our thinking the appearance is quite the other way, and we should not be at all surprised to see a lower level accepted next week. There is no doubt the fact that every day is bringing us nearer the busy season, when money will be more wanted on this side, but until after the end of the year we are of opinion that imports will fully compensate for exports, whilst Silver promises to be a strong competitor as a favourable means of remittance. In the meantime Government are getting so far behind in their drawings that they will almost be compelled to accept the market rate for their bills, and once this becomes distinctly apparent, any tendency to a higher level of exchange will necessarily be checked.

On Calcutta we quote the rate for demand drafts at Rs. 6-11 to Rs. 6-12 per cwt. Gingelly is now coming forward pretty freely, and meets a ready sale at Rs. 34 to Rs. 36 per candy, according to quality for Mixed to White, and Rs. 32½ to Rs. 34 for Red and Brown.

TELEGRAMS.

THE VICEROY ON TOUR.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

PESHAWUR, Nov. 16.

The following address will be presented to the Viceroy to-morrow here by the "people of Peshawur" through the Municipal Committee. The address is in high-flown Persian, of which the following is a translation. After compliments. We are truly thankful your Excellency has arrived in good health in this frontier outpost of Peshawur. We are truly delighted to see your Lordship. We who reside in this frontier district are far away from the seat of the Government of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Empress of India; but just as those different members of the body which owe their allegiance to the heart, whether they are near or distant from it, not only derive benefits from it, but obey its motions and directions, so we who are so far from the centre of Government are equally loyal and faithful with those who dwell under the shadow of the Throne, although in wealth and influence we are inferior. We much regret your Excellency's sojourn in Peshawur is so brief, but are much gratified your Lordship has honoured this new hospital with your august presence and have consented to inaugurate it. We hope the inhabitants of Peshawur will derive from this institution great benefits from more discoveries in science which, though God in his wisdom has thought fit to hide from his creatures, He gradually reveals to them. We not only hope that the people of Peshawur will derive great benefits from this hospital, but trust that similar benefits will be received by those who live in more distant regions in Central Asia, and that the inhabitants of those regions, when they have by the skill and attention of the servants of this institution been cured of dangerous diseases and complaints, will return to their native haunts with feelings of joy and thankfulness for the establishment of this hospital. We are grateful, and we pray gracious God to continue to protect the Government of Her Majesty the Empress of India. Then follows a poem to the effect that as long as the world lasts may her Government continue; may her justice and equity ever remain as long as the sun and the heavens exist; may her power ever continue to increase as long as this world lasts; may Her Majesty's fortunes flourish. Amen.

The Viceroy arrives here at eleven o'clock. H. E. breakfasts at the Commissioner's, where the élite of the station are invited to meet him. The Viceroy leaves at twelve o'clock, and opens the Edwardes's Memorial gate, where the chiefs will assemble to receive him. He then goes to the Egerton Hospital, where the above address will be presented. He afterwards goes through the central city road to the fort, where he obtains a view of the valley; and leaves the station at two o'clock.

MR. WILLIAM DODERET, appointed by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India a member of Her Majesty's Covenanted Civil Service on the Bombay Establishment, reported his arrival on the 7th instant, and has been placed under the orders of the Collector of Poona.

MR. G. H. D. WALKER, of the Uncovenanted Service, Assistant Secretary to the North-West Government in the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department, proceeds almost immediately to Calcutta to officiate for Mr. A. B. Sampson, C.S., Under-Secretary to the Government of India in the General Branch of the same department.

MONSIEUR MONTALIVET, Lieutenant d'Artillerie, and son of a French Minister, is travelling as the guest of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal through Behar. M. Montalivet wishes to see all he can of India, and the way in which it is governed.

THE latest season reports for the Bombay Presidency bring the history of the state of affairs down to the 15th inst. The locust pest, which has been so unfortunate a drawback to an otherwise highly prosperous year, is now troublesome to any great extent in Satara only, where these insects are reported present "in seven talukas, damaging crops," and "especially in 56 villages in Wai." The Nasik collectorate is now free of them, while the exception of two small tracts, they have not failed to leave behind sad traces of their visit. They have despoiled the fields so completely that in one taluka, Chandor, positive distress is reported amongst the people. The locusts are disappearing from the Poona district, and from Ahmednugger, and have now a hold on only one taluka of Thana. Generally, the reports are satisfactory. The kharif harvest and rabi sowing are completed in most districts. In Ahmednugger, Sholapore, and Satara rain is required for the newly-sown rabi crops. The kharif harvest, where not interfered with by the locusts, has proved generally encouraging. Cotton is being picked, and the outturn and quality in the Wadhwan district are reported good. Nothing is said as to either quality or quantity in Khandesh. Cholera has almost entirely disappeared, but fever is still prevalent in almost all districts. A good deal of cattle-disease, also, is reported.

THE District Magistrate of Madura appears to have entertained doubts as to the legality of recruiting in British territory for the Hyderabad Contingent. That functionary referred the point to the Madras Government, and the following decision has been presented:—"His Excellency the Governor-in-Council believes there is no legal objection to recruitment being carried on in British territory for service in the Hyderabad Contingent; but he is of opinion that such recruitment should not be allowed to commence without an official communication being first made to this Government by the Resident at Hyderabad. That officer will accordingly be addressed on the subject, and he will be requested to intimate that the license of every recruiting officer must be countersigned by the District Magistrate before recruiting is allowed to begin in any of the districts of the Madras Presidency."

A BANGALORE paper, writing about "rabis" (sic), complains that "there are several of the canine tribe whose fate is to roam about suffering with this disease," and adds:—"A rabid animal was killed on Friday last, at noon, after biting a dog belonging to a soldier. The latter was also destroyed soon afterwards." Poor man! After this we are quite prepared to agree that, in Bangalore, "owners of valuable dogs would act wisely to keep their pets chained at the present crisis."

A CORRESPONDENT sends the following message from Lahore to a Calcutta paper:—"Mr. G. W. Allen, formerly of the Pioneer, who is at present at Lahore, has submitted to the Punjab Government an offer to execute the whole of its printing work on contract. The offer will require serious consideration, because it involves not only the abolition of the jail press, which has been already doomed by the policy of the Government of India, but also of all the Secretariat presses, except a small press for confidential political work. Thus it is not merely a question of gain or loss to Government, but it has to be considered whether, even for the sake of furthering the policy of patronising private enterprise, the Government would be justified in taking so momentous a step, which would send adrift hundreds of Government employés. Though in many cases gratuities would doubtless be given, and the majority would probably find employment with the contractor, still there are important advantages connected with Government service, and these would be sacrificed. Mr. Allen's tender is stated to be over three lakhs."

LORD PLUNKET, Bishop of Meath, has had the courage and candour, the Daily News says, to make in public a statement which a good many people are making in private. Disestablishment, he says, which at the time was thought disastrous for the Church in Ireland, has turned out for its good. If it had remained in connection with the State it could not have passed as safely as it has done through the struggles and convulsions of the past three years.

SOME of the press correspondents had a rough time of it in Egypt, the World says. One eminent artist, representing an illustrated paper, owing to the strict limitation of numbers, had to get to the front concealed in a truck full of hay. Hay must be worse than dust in a draughtsman's eyes, and the correspondent's sketches were made under considerable difficulties. The question of supplies, where every one had to be fed by the Commissariat, was a delicate one, as also was that of progression, seeing that, being en cachette, he could not show himself much, and at no time could he ride, having neither a horse nor rations to give one. Fortunately for him, the other representative of his paper fell ill, and he was allowed to take the place.

THE amount of security obtained for letters passing through the Indian post is very creditable to the P. O. officials, considering the state of affairs in this respect in England, where, notwithstanding many improvements that have been effected of late years in the Post Office arrangements, the security of letters passing through that department is yet very far from perfect. At the Central Criminal Court on Oct. 16 there were three prosecutions of Post Office employés charged with theft. One man employed at a branch office, who [illegible] letter containing £20, was sentenced to eight months' imprisonment with hard labour; and two letter-carriers, who pleaded guilty to similar offences, were sentenced each to five years' penal servitude. The extent to which these robberies are occasionally carried on may be judged by the fact that at the lodgings of one of the prisoners were found no less than 400 letters, some open and others unopened, together with bankers' cheques, stamps, and other property that had been abstracted from the letters.

COUNT VON HATZFELD-WILDENBURG, the new Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs at Berlin, has the reputation, a London paper says, of being one of the ablest of the German diplomatists, and one of the few men in whom Prince Bismarck has perfect confidence. Although the Chancellor is in the habit of exacting absolute obedience from his Ambassadors—who, as he said to Count Arnim, "must obey orders like subordinate officers"—Count Hatzfeld, while Ambassador at Madrid, not only disregarded the instructions which were on one occasion sent him by Prince Bismarck, but acted in direct opposition to them, and was highly praised by the Prince for so doing. He was afterwards appointed German Ambassador at Constantinople; and it was to a great extent owing to his personal qualities that Germany gained for the first time, during the tenure of this post, a predominant influence in the councils of the Porte. His mother was the celebrated Countess Hatzfeld known as the friend of Lasalle and the patroness of the Socialist agitation in Germany and other countries.

OFFICIAL intimation has been conveyed to German ship-owners and masters that in future they must be prepared to defend themselves against piratical attacks in foreign waters. A circular has been issued by the Minister of Commerce in which it is stated that in consequence of the recent plundering of the German vessel Occident in the Chinese seas it is deemed necessary to call the attention of all ship-owners to the dangers to which vessels navigating or trading in Chinese waters are exposed, and to impress upon them the necessity of providing, by a careful selection of the crews and by the provision of an adequate and suitable supply of weapons, for the successful repulse of attacks by pirates. It is admitted that it is the duty of the Empire to protect its subjects in foreign parts; but at the same time, it is pointed out that it may, on the other hand, be reasonably expected that German subjects shall take such precautionary measures as may appear to be dictated by the existence of well-known dangers, and will not wantonly place them in a position which obliges them to call upon the State for protection. The Chancellor of the Empire has therefore decided that in future, before any steps are taken in the interests of persons who have suffered from piratical attacks in Chinese waters, an inquiry shall be instituted as to the adequacy and completeness of the armament and strength and vigilance of the crew of the vessel attacked.

SOME interesting information appears in a letter from the Samoan Islands under date July 5. The two parties that have kept Samoa so disturbed for some time have at last been reconciled. The King and his Viceroy have been on a cruise round the islands, and were everywhere well received; so that, the writer of the letter anticipates, a considerable impulse will be given to foreign trade. Upwards of two-thirds of the island of Upolu belongs to English, Germans, and Americans, and recently the "great English firm of McArthur, of London," has purchased five-sixths of the large island of Savaii. Thus the English possess in the islands of Upolu and Savaii about 30,000 to 40,000 while the Germans have half that area, and the Americans one-fourth. A great trade has been growing up between San Francisco and these islands; and American houses have agencies in Samoa, as well as in Tahiti, and in the Marshall, Ellice, and Kingsmill groups. This is good for the natives, as the competition between the agents of the various foreign houses has raised the export price of native products and reduced greatly the price of imports. In the neighbouring island of Tonga, where the good-natured George is king, there has been an attempt at revolution. The "Prime Minister," Mr. Baker, a former missionary, is said to be cordially hated by his quondam brethren, who latterly instigated several chiefs to petition for his removal. This was refused, and the missionaries got some natives to sign a petition to Queen Victoria; whereupon the signatories were condemned to death for "high treason." Baker, however, obtained their pardon. But meantime the missionaries are keeping the island in so disturbed a state that a German corvette has been sent to look after German interests.

At the North Woolwich Gardens, on Oct. 18, Mr. Myers's circus animals, and his whole stock-in-trade as a wild-beast showman, were disposed of before a select gathering of "the talent." The catalogue of the sale included some half-dozen lions, five elephants, and various lots of horses and ponies. "How old are they?" asked a possible purchaser when the lions were put up. "I don't know," replied the auctioneer, "but you may look in their mouths." These "most ferocious and yet the most perfectly docile animals ever exhibited" were eventually sold for £1,050. The elephants were equally attractive. A single large one named Blind Bill, though of the feminine gender, fetched 150 guineas; and four smaller animals, "very docile, and to be performed by any one," were knocked down for the same figure as the lions. The horses, of which there was a large selection all more or less accomplished, went for prices ranging between 12 and 200 guineas. Roman chariots went for seven guineas, and other lots were sold for a song.

A GUNNER'S GRIEVANCE.

"O. I." WRITES as follows to the Pioneer:—The Artillery Gazette points attention to a matter which does not seem to have received from the military authorities all the consideration which it deserves. That Gazette shows a number of Captains of Royal Artillery as having been promoted to regimental majorities, vice a corresponding number of regimental Colonels and Lieutenant-Colonels on the "old Royal" list, "compulsorily retired" to half pay on the completion of five years' service in their respective ranks; and it also shows one Captain, viz., Major Mallins, as promoted to a regimental majority, vice Major Borradaile of the "old Bombay" list, who was himself promoted to a Lieutenant-Colonelcy, vice Colonel Harris (late Bombay), "voluntarily retired" to pension. Now, why should this very wonderful distinction be made between the treatment extended to officers of the Royal Artillery and that meeted out to officers of the Indian artilleries? And why, pray, should Colonels of the old list be compulsorily driven out on half pay, after five years' service as such, whilst the Indian Colonels are allowed to remain on practically as long as they please? Surely what is sauce for the "old" gander ought to be sauce for the younger geese also. If there are any of these latter who originally, on the amalgamation of the Royal and Indian Artilleries in 1860, that is, some 23 years ago, elected for local service, in preference to general service, I could understand some extra indulgences being granted to them; but even in such cases the enjoyment of their extra rights for the past 23 years ought to go a long way as "compensation for disturbance now just as the enjoyment of a long lease is, in Ireland and Scotland, considered to be compensation to a tenant for ejectment on its expiration; but I cannot see why those who chose general service should be treated in any way differently from their brethren of the old Royal list. These men elected general service with their eyes open, and have, ever since, been treated in exactly the same way as if they had always belonged to the old Royal list. They have taken their share in Home, Colonial, and Indian Service—yea, and in active service too. They have had their share, or more than their share, of the regimental staff appointments, both at home and abroad, and they have almost monopolized such appointments in India—thus all three of the Artillery Adjutants-General now in India are old Indians, and so is our Brigade-Major; and as to the Ordnance Department, why, that is a purely Indian preserve—at least in its higher and better paid appointments. Why, therefore, should not, they, too, be compulsorily retired, after five years' service as Colonels, just as the old Royal men are? There does not appear to be any reasonable answer to this question; but it is, nevertheless, said "that is the difference!" "The non-retirement of the Indians does not affect the old Royal men, who would in any case be retired all the same. Why, therefore, make a noise, and so attract the attention of the civilians at the War Office to one of the few bits of good that is still left us?" My answer is that I write in the interests of the whole of the Captains and Subalterns of the regiment, who are now threatened universally with compulsory retirement, unless they reach the rank of Major before the completion of 20 years' service, or the attainment of 40 years of age, whichever event may occur first; whilst the Indian Colonels and Majors, to supply whose very places many of the Captains and Subalterns were first appointed, are themselves exempted from the operation of the compulsory retirement warrant. Surely this is not justice or fair play. You might as well tell a man to climb a ladder out of which you had broken all the rungs, and then punish him for not reaching the top quickly, and in one course. This is, I assure you, no fancied grievance, as references to any old Army List, say that of 1861, and to one of any recent date, will at once prove; for such a reference will show at a glance the enormous addition which has been made, during the past 20 years, to the numbers of the Captains and Subalterns on the old R. A. list, without any corresponding increase in the other ranks of that list; and this addition has been made, as is well known almost entirely in order to enable men of the old R. A. list to fill the places of those of the Indian list as the latter died out, and yet it is now proposed to allow these old Indians to remain on as long as they like, but to compulsorily retire their juniors on the general list, because, forsooth, these latter do not step into the shoes of the Indians within a limited time. No, this is not justice, and it cannot be allowed to go on; and even some of these Indian Colonels who would now be retired were the 5 years' rule applied to them are, I admit, of the honor be it said, that it is not justice; and they had even expected to be put on half pay on the 1st October last, and were preparing to go home, when a telegram came out saying "May remain for the present." The intimate connection and very deep interests which exist betweeu the junior ranks of the old R. A. list and the Field Officers' lists of the three Indian Artilleries will be readily understood, if it be remembered that within the past two months no less than four or five Captains of the old Royal Artillery have been promoted to majorities, vice an equal number of Majors of the old Indian Artilleries, and that some six or seven more would now be entitled to promotion were the compulsory retirement warrant made applicable to the old Indian Artilleries, as it ought to be, and as it now is, to the old Royal Artillery.

LOCUSTS AT SARWADA.—A correspondent writes on Wednesday:—"This morning a flight of locusts passed over Sarwada in the Chiplun taluka of the Ratnagiri district. Fortunately, the rice crop has all been harvested; but the harrek and nachni have suffered slightly. Finding nothing about here more tempting to their fastidious taste, the locusts settled in clouds on mango-trees, which they soon stripped of their foliage, leaving them with naked, leafless branches stretched out in mute appeal to 'ye heavens,' mere relics of their former glory. I knocked over a few locusts and found them larger, harder, and more gaily decked than those that swarmed the S. M. Country during the famine, with broad yellow-and-black stripes down the back. They had the appearance, in miniature, of Arabs in their national costume."

THE CHARGE OF BIGAMY.

YESTERDAY Mr. Gunputrao Sadasew, pleader, High Court, appeared before Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee at the Girgaum Police Court, on behalf of his client, T. Goulden, and presented an information to his Worship similar to the one recently filed by him at the Acting Chief Presidency Magistrate's Court on behalf of T. Goulden, in which the accused, Mr. and Mrs. Duggan, stood charged with bigamy, and which case was dismissed owing to the non-appearance of the complainant, Goulden, when the case was called on for hearing on the 14th instant. Mr. Goulden prayed that warrants might be issued for the re-apprehension of the accused, and that they be dealt with according to law.

Mr. Gunputrao said that his client had no notice of the day of hearing of the case before Mr. Webb. The police officer, Mr. Rennie, merely left word on Tuesday forenoon at the house of the complainant, after the latter had left to work, that his case would be called on for hearing before Mr. Webb that day. This information was only given to Mr. Goulden by his servant on his return home in the evening. Consequently the complainant did not appear, and the defendants were discharged. He (Mr. Gunputrao) then applied to Mr. Webb to allow the case to be restored. Mr. Webb directed Mr. Gunputrao to make his application to Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee, in the Girgaum Police Court, as in that magistrate's jurisdiction the offence was said to have been committed. Consequently he applied to his Worship (Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee) for the renewal of the case.

The magistrate remarked that he noticed in the newspapers that this case had been dismissed by Mr. Webb, and he did not feel himself justified in issuing a fresh warrant or summons against the same accused parties, until he was informed by Mr. Webb that he had no objection to his entertaining the complaint again.

Mr. Gunputrao said he would make the necessary application to Mr. Webb, and inform the magistrate of the result.

Later in the day Mr. Gunputrao appeared again before Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee, and produced the necessary sanction from Mr. Webb. His Worship accordingly granted warrants against the accused persons, who were subsequently arrested by the police and held to bail.

PROVISION BY MEANS OF LIFE ASSURANCE.

THE preference shown by the Assuring Public last year in selecting the Standard Life Office for Assurances amounting to upwards of £1,400,000, a sum which considerably exceeds the new business of any of the Scottish Life Offices, may probably be attributed in a great measure :—
1. To the magnitude of the Company's Funds and the select nature of the investments.
2. To the steady and unfluctuating character of its annual results.
3. To the comprehensive and liberal conditions of STANDARD POLICIES and the Company's promptitude in the payment of claims.
4. To the old established and influential connections of the Company.
5. To the strict control exercised over its expenditure and general management.
Forms of proposal and prospectuses may be obtained on application.
